Introduction

St. John the Baptist Parish Church, Chester was formally the Chester Cathedral. The majority of the gravestones outside of the church have now been laid to the ground and form the pathways immediately in front of the church. In 2009 the condition of the gravestones was deteriorating due to erosion caused by a combination of the weather and people walking over the gravestones. It was decided to record the gravestone inscriptions on the 49 remaining gravestones for future reference. This publication contains the gravestone inscriptions that were recorded in 2009.
